There was a big crowd at the Oceanic wharf this morning to see the S. S. Alameda depart for San Francisco. She carried a small crowd of passengers however. She is due in San Francisco next Tuesday.

WAIMANALO BAR IS FEATHER WHITE TODAY—J. A. CUMMINS AND NOEAU ARE STILL IN PORT

"The bar is feather white" reported Waimanalo this morning when Fred Whitney of W. G. Irwin and Company telephoned over to ascertain regarding the condition of the sea. He wanted to learn how the weather on the northern side of the island was in order to know whether the steamer J. A. Cummins should be sent around to Waimanalo and Koolau ports. This report was sufficient, however, to satisfy Mr. Whitney that it would not be safe to send the Cummins out, so he decided to hold the vessel in port until after the weather subsided. It would be impossible for the vessel to get over the Waimanalo bar in such weather.
